

Find Chained Body of Man in River

One Active City
Farewell Chicago May
Men of Three Wars
Big Marriage Problem
By Arthur Brisbane

CHICAGO, May 26—HOT IN OTHER PLACES, not here, thanks to the big lake, cooling winds that blow over it. Gigantic buildings going up, including one with more floor space than to any other ever built on earth. James Thompson, who owned Marshall Field & Co., is building that, with railroad tracks under it, the Chicago river beside it, leading out to the lakes and oceans.

Chicago's "I will" has not died yet. Buildings that amazed the world by their height and size a few years ago are coming down to make room for bigger buildings. In public improvements, Chicago is constantly active, with parks, playgrounds, bathing beaches that set an example to other cities. Great areas are reclaimed from the lake. And the scheme for development of the lake front exceeds in scope and beauty anything done in America.

All this does not interest Thomas McMillan, carried out of a grill room, alias speakeasy, on West Madison St., early this morning. His career as a racketeer ended when one of three bullets fired into him went through his heart. Chicago papers, as a rule, observe the requests of their profession, killing only other gangsters.

"Chicago May" Churchill died in the Philadelphia General Hospital today, aged 52. Her life offers to scenario writers an exciting moving picture, talking, singing, shooting and popping. May was queen of Chicago's underworld when it was a real underworld and five dollars a bottle for champagne seemed a great deal. A lady of power, she married several, knew many others intimately, and was about to marry again when "death" claimed her, as reporters put it. Prince put one of her most intimate friends, Eddie Gurin, on Devil's Island, with other convicts. Chicago May took a yacht, some money, and rescued Gurin by bribery. Miss May, at 15, married a bank robber, Dan Churchill, in Nebraska, and when he was killed by the sheriff, she began, on Chicago's levee, Chicago papers give her biographies longer than Professor Michelson's will get. The public understands Chicago May, and her long criminal career. It can't understand Michelson's interference.

In Memorial processions yesterday marched men of three wars. Young men from the big war, men of middle age, from the Spanish War, few very old from the Civil War, heard speeches and marched to music. How many more will come? How many millions will be shot, blown up, gassed, drowned, or die of disease to the spending of billions, before we go to join cannibals and slavers? Nobody knows. But every child might know that the way to avoid war is to be ready for it. "Build up your strength that you may successfully resist disease," says the gentle pacifist to his children. Why not say to the nation: "Build up your strength, that you may resist attack." To be strong does not invite disease of war.

Britain has a problem more serious than the election, unemployment and German reparations, combined. Two million British girls, excess of females, are told bluntly: "You cannot hope to be married. Not enough men to go around." The girls ask: "Then what are we to do?" A difficult question. Some might see it in the hand of Providence. But a woman unmarried and childless cannot be happy, although she may make the best of it. One baby means more to a good woman than ten careers, even if she does not know it until she gets the baby.

After great wars in old Europe, Germany was established officially, but by passive acquiescence, as some parts of this country have established coexistence. Religious forces did not approve or rebuke irregular arrangements, simply ignored them. Gradually the balance was re-established. That may come again. There is only one life for a woman.

One hundred forty thousand watching the automobile race at Indianapolis saw a driver killed, soon after the race started. Only 24 years old, Bill Spence of Los Angeles, is said to have been a reckless driver as was Capt. Rickenbacker himself in old days when he drove racing cars, before he raced with German fighters in the air. Spence's car turned over on "Death Run." It cannot be said that his life was wasted, or that the 800 mile speed race is useless. It develops better engines, wheels, pistons, combinations. Some are killed, millions, later see more safety.

SICK GIRL PLUNGES TO DEATH

Springfield, May 31—Diving from an eighth-story window of the Fisher & Walker department store, Miss Jean Bennett, 19, of Lowell St., crashed to her death today in the center of Vernon St.

A number of witnesses on the sidewalk, 50 feet from where the body landed, became hysterical and a rush to the spot, tied in traffic for some time.

According to several women in the restaurant of the department store, the girl, who has been in ill health for some months, entered the room and suddenly placed her hands to her head.

She walked over to an open window, stepped up on the radiator beneath it and dived into space. Medical Examiner Frederick D. Jones pronounced the girl's death due to suicide.

Mercury Drops 22 Degrees

After exacting a toll of seven lives in Greater Boston and neighboring areas, the unprecedented heat wave of the last three days was suddenly broken shortly before noon by a welcome east wind that swept in from the sea.

At 11 o'clock the official thermometer at the federal building registered 89 degrees, which was four degrees higher than at 10 o'clock. At 11:37 the cool east wind struck the city and at 12 noon the mercury was at 74 degrees. At 1 o'clock it registered 71 degrees and by 2 o'clock had dropped to 67.

A still further downward movement was promised by the official mail was promised by the official Eighteen borings were made by the Finance Commission.

A tip from a woman whose identity police withheld today resulted in the arrest at the Back Bay railroad station of Thomas A. Pannetta, 27, of Concord ave., Cambridge, alleged slayer of his love rival during a quarrel over the affections of a 16-year-old girl.

In the presence of his sweetheart, Maria Gulo, 16, of Bee parents, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Gulo of 61 Concord ave., Pannetta, police charge, fired two bullets into the back of Dominick Simiotta, 16, of his revolver into a ditch and fled.

Although it was not explicitly stated in the bulletin, there has been talk of a possible pardon.

NO DEMOCRATIC CAUCUS ON LEG OF BED

Rep. Leo M. Birmingham at Brighton, Democratic floor leader in the House, announced that he will not call a caucus of the members of his party to take action on the El question. He is opposed to making the issue a party matter. Senator Bligny of South Boston had suggested that a caucus of Democratic legislators be called and that former Mayor Fitzgerald and Curley and Peters of Boston be invited to attend such a caucus to advise on the El situation. "I don't believe this El situation should be made a party measure," said Birmingham. "Our Republican opponents in the Senate have done that, but in the House we have discussed the problem, which is of such interest to the people of all parties within the metropolitan district, without any suggestion of partisanship. There have been sharp differences of opinion, but they have not been differences along party lines."

Moreover, the Democrats in the House have been following Rep. Twombly of South Boston, leader in the public ownership battle, and the situation is entirely satisfactory to me and, I believe, very Democratic in the House."

The Curious Quizzer

North End Folk Answer His Daily Question and Pose for Pictures.

THE QUESTION
Do you think city employees who are delegated to survey veterans' conventions should be allowed city pay while absent?

SURE FRISCA, Moon st.—City employees who are war veterans and who leave their jobs to attend conventions should not be paid while they are absent. I can see no reason why they should, because the average worker is docked whenever he is absent, and there is no reason why city employees should be any different. The fact that they are veterans entitles them to a little consideration, but it does not entitle them to a complete freedom of the city treasury.

Hub Man Arrested
Seattle, May 31.—Claiming to be the son of a prominent and wealthy Boston family, Harold J. Hill, 22, salesman in a hosiery firm, held in city jail accused as the author of a nation-wide forgery campaign involving more than $500,000.

CHARLES CALLAHAN, Hanover st.—City employees, whether they are war veterans or not, should receive their pay when they leave their jobs to attend conventions. We were glad to hear that these boys have been over seas ten years ago attending our country and this is a fine thing to show our appreciation of those who have sacrificed in those times. Anyone who would work their pay while they are away from their work should not consider himself a patriot, because these boys gave themselves willingly when the call came, and they should be allowed to attend their get-togethers whenever the need arises without having to figure on a loss of wages.

MARIE STERIL, Sheaf st.—War veterans on the payroll of the city should expect when they leave to attend conventions that they will lose the time they are absent. We admire the boys who went to France, and we owe them a debt of gratitude. It is taking through the boys who are held in the city. However, we should consider the citizen's pocketbooks when we decide whether or not to vote, if the necessary action, I would cast my vote against paying them. I don't think I would be far wrong in saying that a large majority of our residents would also vote in the same manner.

CHARLES MARTINI, Baldwin st.—City employees should be paid when they are not on the job, and especially when the war veterans. Remember—these boys offered to give their all when the call came in the late war, and we should not forget their heroic offer today. The fact that a few dollars would leave the city treasury and go to these boys while they are at a convention should not be considered. The thing that should be foremost in our minds in discussing this subject is that we owe the boys much more than we can repay, and we might as well take this opportunity to show our appreciation.

BOOK OF MONTH CLUB CENSORS NEW NOVEL

Revelation that the Book-of-the-Month club of New York is virtually exercising a censorship over literary works of the nation caused a stir today in literary circles, particularly in Boston.

The revelation was made in connection with a new book, "All Quiet on the Western Front," that will be published tomorrow by Little, Brown & Co., following changes in text and plot ordered by Book-of-the-Month club officials.

An entire episode was deleted from the volume at order of the club censors who claimed it was "too robust" and might offend club subscribers.

Through deletions and changes, it was learned, "The Grudge of the Deep," Joan Lowell's fictionalized autobiography, was altered to suit desires of the club's five judges. When Little, Brown & Co. accepted the new version, the company made changes in words, phrases and sentences so the book would comply with federal and state laws.

The volume originally was published in Germany last January and the sales already have reached the 500,000 mark in that country alone. In the first month 200,000 copies were sold.

It later was published in England and has gone through 10 editions there. The story is of a German soldier on the Western Front and its reviewers have declared it to be the most vivid picture of soldier life.

THREE SLAIN IN CHICAGO GANG WARFARE

Chicago, May 31 (AP).—Another murder—the third in 24 hours—was done when a man walked up to Eugene Quaterl, sitting in front of his little grocery, and fired four shots into his body. He was 34 years old and father of three children.

He found the body of Dominick Costa, known as a thief and a hoodlum. He had been shot to death in gang fashion—taken for a "ride," beaten, shot and then dumped into a field.

A few hours earlier Thomas McMillen was killed in a pistol duel in the basement barroom of a downtown hotel. McMillen was often arrested in connection with "rackets" and crimes of violence.

The kidnapping, apparently for ransom, of "Kid" Austin was another of the farces sent up by gangsters over the holiday. An anonymous

Curtis Opens Triple Celebration at Atlantic City

Atlantic City, N. J., May 31 (AP).—Festivities elaborate even for this city event, opened a three-fold celebration of the golden anniversary of the electric light, the seventy-fifth anniversary of the founding of Atlantic City, and the dedication of the Atlantic City Convention hall, by Vice-President Curtis.

A myriad of lights flashed along nine miles of board walk and tonight a million more will burn to commemorate the event half a century ago when Thomas A. Edison made the first filament glow in another New Jersey town, Menlo Park.

His telephone call to the electric bureau said: "Don't worry about that Austin guy. He is just being detailed until his friends tie up a purse of $20,000."

The kidnapping, apparently for ransom, of "Kid" Austin was another of the farces sent up by gangsters over the holiday. An anonymous

OLYMPIA GETS TALENTED MARXES

Harpo Marx is the one player in talking pictures who is said to be fearless before the microphone, because, as has been his habit during his past 12 years on the stage, he always remains silent. Harpo is the red wigged one of the four Marx brothers who made their stage play, "The Cocoanuts," into a moving picture, the new film at the Washington Street Olympia and Fenway Theaters. In the film are pretty Mary Eaton, noted actress, and Oscar Shaw.

"I'd been coming over here to work and telling all my friends that it was in the movies," Harpo said. "I was quite excited the night my first picture, a Richard Dix film, opened. I took everybody I knew down to see me on the screen."

That it seems the cutters had been at work on the film, and they hadn't figured my acting amounted to much. We sat there waiting for me to come on and dominate the screen, and nothing much happened at all for a couple of weeks. Then a short flash of me, looking through a door.

There he—my mother started to say. Then I flashed off again, she finished the sentence. And that was all they saw of me. I had leaned over to pick up my hat just at that moment, so I never did as myself. I hope I am better off in "The Cocoanuts."

Groucho will pull his rapid-fire repartee and young Zeppo will be the foil. The cascade of stolen silencers will fall out of Harpo's sleeve, and Chico will let his fingers stagger wildly over the piano keys.

Groucho lived up to his name as the schedule forced him to get out of bed after a hard night's work, and appear made up and ready on the set at 9 o'clock in the morning. Harpo is a little fearful that his beloved pickpocket business will be mistaken for trick photography. When he shakes hands with a man on the stage and comes away with his wrist watch, the audience can see that a real manipulation has been performed. He has the camera he will try his best, and the script actually calls for him to steal the shirt off a man's back.

Gen. Almazan on Mission to Europe

Mexico City, May 31 (AP).—General Juan Almazan, hero of the government's suppression of the rebellion in Mexico of the recent past, will head a government commission which will go to Europe to visit the various war supply factories for several months. He would also seek cure for a chronic ailment while abroad.

HE CAN'T RESIST HER

Oscar Shaw and Mary Eaton, both of musical comedy fame, are among the stage favorites assisting the four Marx brothers in the talking film version of the musical show "The Cocoanuts," having its Boston premiere tomorrow at the Washington St. Olympia and Fenway. Oscar appears to be real friendly with winsome Mary.

10 Named in Counter Divorce Actions

White Plains, N. Y., May 31 (IN).—Ten persons, three women and seven men, are named in the double-barreled Abbott divorce action in White Plains supreme court. It begins known today.

Mrs. Ethel Abbott, of Mt. Vernon, for whose arrest a warrant has been issued on a contempt of court charge, accuses her husband of taking two women to Canada, one of them an actress. The husband, Lawrence Abbott, radio saxophone soloist, countered with a denial naming seven men.

The domestic help problem is solved by taking a domestic servant and the house is advertised daily in the New York Times.

GOODWIN OPENS 'DEATH TEST' PROBE

Civil Service Commissioner Elliot S. Goodwin returned to Boston from his vacation today and at once plunged into the future created during his absence by the death of one police officer and the injury of several others who took the commission's physical examination for department promotion. Commissioner Goodwin was visibly disturbed but not prepared to issue a statement, nor to answer any of the charges hurled at him personally and at the board in general while he was away.

JOE KNOWLES AGAIN IN THE LIMELIGHT

Seattle, May 31 (INB)—A portrait painter whose name was once blazoned on the front page of every newspaper in America for his sensational "Adam" exploits in the Maine and California woods bobbed up in the Senate today after 15 years of comparative obscurity. He is Joseph Knowles, who has dwelt quietly for 11 years on the South Washington coast. He was in Seattle this week seeking the commission to paint the official state portraits of Governor Roland H. Hartley and former Governors Leslie P. Hart and M. S. Hays. Back in 1913 Knowles startled the civilized world by announcing he would go unclothed and empty-handed into the New England woods and live there for two months as a primitive man, fashioning his own rude weapons with which to get food.

Knowles is now nearly 60, but still clings to the belief that civilized man can support himself indefinitely in the wilderness.

BOSTON THIRD LOWEST IN SUICIDES

New York, May 31—Suicides in the United States in the last year reached the highest figure on record since 1920, according to a report by Frederick L. Hoffman, consulting statistician of the Prudential Insurance Company. The rate in 1928 for 100 cities was 12.3 per 100,000, while for 98 cities the corresponding rate was 11.5 for 1926, according to the report. Providence, R. I., has the lowest rate, with Pittsburgh, Pa., second, and Boston, Mass., third, San Diego, Cal., is highest.

Nominated by Hoover
Washington, May 31 (AP)—President Hoover today nominated Lieut. Col. Jarvis J. Bain of the army engineers to the Mississippi river commission.

"...and can you imagine, said Priscilla, Gas Cools it!"

THIS is the refrigerator that you will want to know about.

Can you think of anything more interesting than gas heat cooling a refrigerator?

Yet it's the most practical and effective way to keep food fresh and wholesome. With its constant, dry, odorless temperature of below fifty degrees, wastage is almost unknown.

Of course, a Gas Refrigerator has all the newest features. With it you can make ice cubes as well as delicious frozen desserts and food combinations.

And its silence is most refreshing. No motor or moving parts to vibrate, hum and get out of order. Requires but little attention year after year.

Visit your gas company for a demonstration. You'll find it well worth while even if not ready for a new refrigerator right now.

While there you can also see other wonder-working aids to health, happiness and convenience in the home which the gas industry has made possible.

For example—laundry dryers, fireplaces, house heaters, radiators, incinerators, automatic water heaters, ranges, garage heaters, etc.

Any of them may be purchased with a small down payment and easy terms for the balance.

BORDERLAND

HIGH Test NO Knock!

If our refining processes stopped at the usual point—then COLONIAL GAS would contain much of the "borderland" mixture that comes between gasoline and kerosene. But our refining goes a full step farther—and takes out all this kerosene mixture, which we then sell for heating purposes—not as gasoline. More and more motorists are swinging to COLONIAL GASOLINE—for high-test no-knock performance in the new high compression motors, and for smoother, quieter performance in old motors badly carbonized or worn. And our sales have increased to four-fold in four years.

ROTARY KEEPS OLD SLOGAN

Dallas, Tex., May 31.—Rotarians gathered here at their annual international convention elected officers who will be announced shortly. They voted to retain their slogan and decided to hold more conventions in foreign lands.

A resolution declaring that the 113 meeting and at all events fourth convention thereafter should be held outside of North America was passed.

The delegates refused to abandon the slogan "He Profits Most Who Serves Best." In spite of arguments from foreign delegates, who said that the slogan, translated into foreign tongues, had a much more commercial connotation than it has in English. The convention also refused the request of English delegates that dues be reduced from $4.50 per annum to $4.

75,000 Tons of Ice Lost, Just When It Is Needed Most

Brookfield, May 31.—Seventy-five thousands tons of ice stored in the lockhouse of the Brookfield Ice Company, the second largest in New England, were destroyed by an early morning fire that did damage, according to the owners, of $100,000.

The fire was discovered by one of the cottagers on Lake Quabbin, where the lockhouse is situated. A barn and a house adjoining the lockhouse were also destroyed. An intense fire broke out that flames could not be checked within 500 feet of the flames.

Spontaneous combustion was given as the cause of the blaze. A car nearby is burning. Heavy snow is driving in from the north. The fire is still burning. The fire is still burning.

FLAG CHAMPIONS OFF FOR PHILADELPHIA

They're off—bound for Philadelphia and a two weeks' tour of America's most inspiring patriotic shrines.

Miss Roseanna Catherine Higgins of 18 Gilkey st., Watertown, and Edward Shea of 57 Taber st., New Bedford, today left for Philadelphia on the National Express.

Miss Higgins is the regional flag champion in the recent contest conducted by the United States Flag Association of Washington, D. C., and sponsored in New England by the Boston Evening American.

On Saturday the two weeks' pilgrimage to America's patriotic shrines begins. Sunday, they arrive in Boston for a two-day visit. Headquarters while in Boston will be at the Hotel Statler. Immediately after their arrival they will be taken on an all-day tour to Plymouth, arriving back in time to participate in the patriotic reception to be given them by Mayor Nichols in Faneuil Hall, the Cradle of Liberty, at 8 a. m.

This program is one of the finest of its kind ever gotten up by the city. The speaker is Judge Francis J. Good, who is known throughout the State for his activities in the American Legion, of which he is past state commander. The U. S. R. C., who has been active in behalf of the wounded veterans and organization work for the American Legion, and a president of office of note, has consented to act in that capacity on Sunday evening.

To Preside CLAIM COUNCIL IS TAINTED

Pittsburgh, May 31.—Charges that the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America had exceeded its chartered authority in matters of doctrine and had accepted contributions from "improper" sources were made here today at the 71st annual general assembly of the United Presbyterian Church.

The charges, which were made in the form of a memorial from the Argyle Presbytery, were referred to the committee on bills and overtures for study and recommendation.

No Relief From Heat Wave in New York

New York, May 31.—No relief from the oppressive heat wave, which took a toll of three lives in this city on the holiday, was in sight today.

Nine persons, among the throngs at nearby beaches, were drowned. Three others succumbed to heat exhaustion. Five persons, including four children, were killed and a number injured in the Memorial Day automobile rush from the city.

CHESTNUT HILL HORSE SHOW ONE OF THE MOST SUCCESSFUL ON RECORD

Society Braves Heat to Watch 491 En- tries in 30 Classes

ALL THE LOCAL PROPHETS who forecast the "biggest and best" Chestnut Hill Horse Show in 16 years may be properly and fully honored, for yesterday's turnout was large and brilliant, in spite of the blazing sun. No matter which way one turned, the fashions crowded the rails in sunny frocks that lent from a distance, an illusion of a great parade of varicolored flowers. In spite of suburban faces they stayed right through 491 entries in 30 classes with unabated enthusiasm. And when hundreds of men, women and children kept up enthusiasm for hours, with the merry cry at 94 and no shade at the ringside, the quality of the show speaks for itself.

CHESTNUT HILL TRADITION which boasts the youngsters into the saddle in kindergarten days, was carried on with fine neighborhood spirit as young Hagadorn, McNeill, West, Saltonstall, Rogers and others went prancing over the turf on spirited mounts. Either the children ride or are brought to see the annual brilliant ring spectacles where parents or relatives are participating. And in either case their interest is intense. One of the most interesting horsemanship and expert knowledge of points as they pick the winners with perfect confidence. Apparently the children that live on Chestnut Hill are born to the saddle.

FAMILY PARTIES, PARKED in shiny automobiles or perched on the rails, included almost the entire roster of first families on the Hill. Mr. and Mrs. George Saltonstall West, with the three small Wests, were in and out of the ring almost continuously, taking with them the Andrew A. Memorial cup in the fourth prize. Mr. and Mrs. Harold F. Tolman and small Harold, Jr. and Virginia, departed with ten more ribbons for their collection. Virginia and her mount, Ridgewood Rocket, captured the blue ribbon and a generous round of applause in the children's pony class.

YOUNG ALVAN T. FULLER, Jr., son of the former Governor and Mrs. Fuller, entered the children's horsemanship class for the first time and rode away with fourth prize. His sister, Mary, was there, too, in smart riding legs, but did not compete. Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert King with their small son, Arthur Flood King and Gilbert King, Jr., watched the show from the family car of Mrs. King's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur M. Wood. And the victorious little "three-prancer" of the "Red Cloud" was seen, Peggy, Jean and Ellen, and their last cream color and thrills in lavender frocks all alike. Their father was with them.

THE GALEN C. STONE CAR was crowded all day with various friends and members of the family. Mrs. Richard F. Hunt of New York (Katherine Stone) in smart crimson silk print was on hand with her daughter, Miss Wynne, in the next whorled dress. Miss Eleanor brought over three jumpers from the Hoyt stables and rode them all. Her sisters, Misses Virginia and Constance were prominent in the ring also. Mr. and Mrs. John Chase looked lovely and cool in fresh white sports costume trimmed with red, and a wide red sash. Mrs. Chandler Hovey and her daughter, Miss Elizabeth, were in smart chiffon gowns, and spent part of their day with the Stones.

Miss Virginia Tolman brought home the blue ribbon with Ridgewood Rocket in a total of ten ribbons won by the Harold F. Tolman stable at Chestnut Hill Horse Show yesterday.

NO SEASONED TURF FAN could have possibly enjoyed the show more than the tiny grandchild of Mrs. Edwin E. Webster who patted his chubby hands and roared lustily for his uncle, Edwin S. Webster, Jr., taking the jump in the Norfolk Hunt class. He is the son of Col. and Mrs. Thomas A. Ham, Jr., who is visiting his grandparents here with his mother, the former Frances Webster, nee of Geneva, Switzerland. Little Miss Jane Marie daughter of Mabel Webster Harris and Mr. Richard Harris, was in the show. She shared the shade of a green parasol with Mrs. Edwin S. Webster.

NO HORSE SHOW WOULD BE complete without the Bancroft entries and the Bancroft motor at the ringside with its usual hospitality. Yesterday was no exception for the young people sought the shelter of the car while Mrs. William C. (Jocelyn) Bancroft went into the ring to win new laurels with Bolting Hot. She took away first prize in the harness pony class. Miss Jane Bancroft did a neat conceit in the morning when Sonny Boy objected to an unfamiliar bit but remounted immediately, uninjured. Hugh Bancroft, Jr., had his string of young jumpers there. Miss Betty Bird was one of the superb riders in the Milwood

Judges Have Difficult Task Owing to Keen Competition

Just class, topping the rails with surpassing skill, and winning ribbons as usual. Patricia Bird added further to the family name, also.

BLUE RIBBONS GALORE and two silver cups adorned the Albion Danforth automobile, where Miss Marjorie, the 13-year-old marvel, treated with Mary Pully and Elizabeth Stearns after capturing some of the choice firsts of the show. Marjorie rode Bolting Over, Bonny Brooks and Ribbons. She took the Francis W. Lee memorial cup, the blue ribbon and silver cup in the combination pony class, both with Bolting Over. She won also a second, third and fourth prize. Miss Miriam Winslow, riding her magnificent new horse, Midnight Sun, was the cynosure of admiring eyes as she carried away the blue ribbon for saddle horses.

I SAW AT CHESTNUT HILL that recent bride, Mrs. Gordon Harrower, who was Miss Elizabeth Lyman until last November. With her was Mr. Harrower, happy, though sunburnt, at the ringside. Their home is in Providence. Mrs. Harrower was her usual trim self, in a smart print sports frock with a wide red sash. Watching her on horse from her car was a notable favorite who is in brown, a horse on Salsburg the dashing Miss Louise Lippett in Paris frock of two tones of purple. Louis K. Lippett, a member of the horse show committee, was with his daughter,

England's most charming dainties

LATE afternoon in London finds a host of charming people gay over their fragrant tea and biscuits. "English biscuits," confections made of the fine flour of the world, blended with a special, English pastry butter and favors such as honey, lime or chocolate. So tasty are these traditional biscuits or cakes that Americans have often, at considerable expense, imported them even though their freshness faded on the long voyage over. But now Americans may obtain them fresh, and with no extra expense! For they are now baking them in America, with English methods and tradition! You may buy Weston's English Quality Biscuits at your store.

SO REST; MEET IN IOWA'S TOMORROW

PITCHING POOR OF LATE

By NICK FLATLEY
BILL CARRIGAN and his warriors can swelter in their tents today, and patch up their wounds. There's no ball game scheduled for the Fenway, and the Red Sox will profit by the rest. They were sorely beaten by the Philadelphia Athletics. But they can be thankful, at least that the crushing invasion of the flying leaders is a matter of history.

The Sox resume operations tomorrow with the Cleveland Indians. They will be getting into their own class. The Carrigan team figures to give the Western club plenty of excitement, and business should begin to pick up. The Athletics just now are not too hot for almost anybody in the league.

The Indians, here Sunday at the Wigwam, incidentally, lead the first parade of the Western club. It is against the teams from the far parts that the Sox must do a lot of winning if they hope to emerge from the cellar.

Two of the outfields from the far parts, the Tigers and Browns, seem destined to cut a bad figure in the pennant scramble, but the Indians and the White Sox do not appear so formidable. Ordinary clubs would rate a chance with them.

CARRIGAN likes to win, but he gets almost as much kick out of a ball club that fights. The Sox have shown a lot of scrap under discouraging conditions, and they please William. He knows that the spirit he wants has been inculcated. The Fenway team came from behind to win their only athletic game, and they knocked over a Yank lead in the previous series.

The Carrigan pitching has not been good. But it shows signs of getting better. Max Gaster, after coming close three or four times, finally collected game. Charlie Eving is likely to match one off. If his supporting cast ever decides to have a good day for him.

Danmy MacFadyen has improved and Jack Russell is due to unfurl a good effort, now that the chill has gone off the air. Big Ed Morris has been bothered with a cold, but the coach has diagnosed, and the fast-ball hero will do his stuff to even against the Indians tomorrow.

Principal Sox trouble seems to be lack of reserve best material. The team needs a couple of young men who can go in and hold fires when slim leads begin to melt. Getting them is something else again. As things are, the manager has to let his regulars eat in there, even when they are getting bumped.

THE SOX are likely to call in a few young men from the minor leagues any day now. Bob Quinn has a couple out for experience, but may decide to let them get it in the big show, if his present athletes do not pick up a Carrigan. Doc has assured For Bob that some of the boys will come through for the owner.

There is likely to be something stirring violently in Blaine quarters very shortly. The club has been making money while losing on the road, but must get going or it will be a long, tough summer at the Wigwam. Drooping already, a row would indicate that the future financial strength is not there.

COLLEGE MOUND ACES

HOWIE WHITMORE Coach Mitchell will send in his premier moundman to bring victory to Harvard. While Jack Barry, Holy Cross mentor, will rely on his star right-hander, Gene Hebert, when the Crimson and Purple meet at Worcester tomorrow.

HAGEN LOSES TO COMPTON, 8 UP

Moor Park, Eng., May 31 (AP)—Archie Compton, huge British professional golfer, won today the first of two 36 hole matches from Walter Hagen, American pro, eight up and seven to play. They will play the second and final match at Birmingham tomorrow.

Hagen dropped six holes in a row in loss the match. Hagen won the 2nd hole in return. Compton's lead in two up but the big Briton then turned on the American and fairly smothered him with a flock of back and birdies.

The open champion's par four was good enough to win the 23d but his game collapsed after that. Hagen picked up at the 27th after a series of assorted troubles and a missed four foot putt enabled Compton to take the tenth.

Hagen Reports an Hour Late for Compton Match
Moor Park, Eng., May 31 (AP)—British public opinion feared Walter Hagen to keep his golf cast with Archie Compton star English pro, but all the king's horses and all the king's men couldn't get "The Lion" out of bed in time to reach Moor Park at 10:30 this morning when the 36 hole match was to begin.

Hagen kept Compton and a salary of 1000 waiting for nearly an hour before he turned up at the course.

Sox Send Jerry Standaert Back
Jerome Standaert, a former Sox infielder, has been sent back to the Mobile Club of the Southern League by the Red Sox.

Stellar Hurler Is Figured to Turn Back Crusaders at Worcester

By TED LYNCH

ALL Harvard is counting on Howie Whitmore, stellar Crimson hurler, to set back Holy Cross at Worcester tomorrow afternoon in the first of a two-game series between these baseball rivals, a task which has already floored more than 30 college hurlers.

Whitmore has been defeated on only one occasion this season and has a winning streak of six games. He is a right-hander with perfect control and a good curve. Hebert, the Crusader hurler, has been undefeated this season, having won all three games which he has pitched.

Hebert will face an odd-looking Harvard team. On paper the Crimson boasts of a great hurler in Whitmore and a great infielder in Prior, Nugent, McGrath and Donaghy. Elsewhere Harvard is not so strong. Behind the plate, Mitchell is starting a first-sacker and the three pastures will be patrolled by two infielders and a catcher.

BUT Harvard has not been winning its ball games on paper this season. The Crimson has a hard time of it in the field. The Purple has a hard time of it in the field. The Purple has a hard time of it in the field.

The Holy Cross nine, coached by Jack Barry, has won 18 out of its 20 ball games, defeating the team of eastern college baseball teams. The Purple has the best of college pitching stuff in Dubois, Nickola, Sim, Hebert, Firdick and Evans. Behind the bat Coach Barry has Pionian, Desautels and Gary.

The Crusader infield of Shovin, Harrell, Ryan and Shanahan compares even with that of Harvard. Barry has three fast outfielders in Hurley, Fisher and Lawrence.

Both sides won their warm-up games on the holiday. Harvard kicked Brown for the second time this season, 8 to 1, while the Purple lost to Boston College 6 to 4.

MISS WILLS WINS IN PARIS

Paris, May 31 (AP)—Helen Wills forged into the semi-finals of the French tennis championship ahead of the field today, easily defeating Mme. Helen Lafaurie of France, 6-4, 6-1.

Reed Lacoste sought to withdraw from the championships today because of a severe sore throat, but finally was prevailed upon to continue in the tournament at least until tomorrow.

Finally taking the court against the Hungarian, Baron von Jakob, a quarter-finalist, Reed played poorly with every nerve of his in pain but won the first set, 6-4.

To reach the semi-final when he captured the third and fourth sets to win the match by scores of 6-4, 6-2, 6-2.

Big Bill Tilden won one of the greatest up-hill battles of his tennis career in the men's singles, defeating Baron H. L. D'Ambrugi of Italy in the quarter-finals after losing the first two sets.

He won the last two sets, 6-2, 6-1.

The match was a close one, with Tilden leading 6-4, 6-2, 6-2.

Reinstatement of Iowa Is Sought

Chicago, May 31 (AP)—University of Iowa officials today anxiously awaited the big ten conference's attitude toward its petition for reinstatement.

They had virtually given up hope of being able to tell Iowa alumni at the annual meeting tomorrow that their alma mater was back in good standing.

At Iowa City it had been hoped that the faculty committee on athletics which expelled Iowa from the Big Ten would reconvene in a special meeting today and that it would decide that the school had its athletic situation in hand would bring about reinstatement. It was especially desired that the action would be taken before Iowa alumni gathered.

However, Prof. George A. Goodenough of the University of Illinois, chairman of the faculty committee, said last night that representatives of only two schools, Michigan and Indiana, had replied to his message asking their respective athletic committees to meet in a special meeting to discuss the situation.

The latter indicated, termed a graduate victory after a two-year fight to oust Bellows, was Iowa's belief, the basis of the action, that administration of athletics did not rest entirely with the faculty.

Thompson Bout for Mello of the Wins From Jones

MELO OUT FORGOWITH DOUBT

Al Mello of Lowell, welter-weight and middleweight champion of New England, refuses to give up hope of annexing the crown now worn by Joe Dundee of Baltimore, in spite of his defeat at the hands of Gorilla Jones of Akron, O.

Joe Dundee has been in the habit of coming to the Hub to meet Mello, if the Lowell boy is successful in leveling the tables on Jones, when they clash Monday night at the Boston Garden.

Thompson, who seems to have outwitted Mello with the claim that the victory of Jones over the local boy eliminates him as a contender, in spite of the fact that Mello defeated the titleholder twice in non-championship bouts.

Mello must beat Jones to get a crack at Thompson as the Garden promoter has stipulated that Thompson will be matched with the winner. It is a big chance for Mello, yet the Spindie City boy thinks he will make good.

The Ohio negro points out that he has robbed him of a knockout out. This was the second time that Mello went down and it occurred during the previous meeting between these rivals in Madison Square Garden, New York.

Steeplechase Horses Are on Increase

By RICHARD E. DANIELSON
Editor of "The Sportsman"
I HAVE just seen an item in The Blood Horse to the effect that "the number of steeplechase horses registered for racing on the Eastern tracks alone has jumped in five years from 125 to 1250."

This growth is extremely gratifying. While I have not the means at the moment to verify these figures, they are none the less indicative of the growth in popularity of the sport of steeplechasing in America.

One of the reasons for this increase is the fact that, in the first place, the type of horse called for is one that can carry weight and go for a distance, taking all sorts of going and very difficult obstacles as they come. Also, it is gratifying that so many young men are learning the arduous and dangerous functions of a steeplechase rider, and devoting so much time to a sport which calls for courage, intelligence, and cool thinking under very difficult conditions.

While steeplechasing was inaugurated in this country in 1863, it flourished as a rather exotic plant until comparatively recent years. It is now an accepted and necessary feature of racing at every big track, and hunt races meetings are among the most important sporting features in the spring and fall seasons. As soon as the weather and colic permit, the hunt clubs begin in Virginia to hold their annual spring meetings. In the present year, the Middleburg Hunt Club held its meetings on the 15th of April and the Deep Run Hunt Club at Richmond the following Saturday.

On the 26th, the Albemarle Country Hunt at Charlottesville, Va., held its meeting, and on the same day the National Point-to-Point Club took place at the Greenleaf Farm, Maryland. The gentlemen riders then moved up to the great timber race of the year on April 27, at the Maryland Hunt Cup race held at Pimlico, Md., returning to Washington, Va., for the following Saturday the Radnor Hunt Club had a most successful meeting at Berwyn, Pa., and the famous old Hooten Fashant.

Steeplechase Horses Are on Increase

Jack Gagnon, big French heavyweight from Allston, will continue his chase after Jim Maloney next Thursday night when he meets Italian Jack Herman of New York in the feature bout of the Cycle A. C. show at the big Reverse Cycle Track.

The bout will feature the opening show of the Cycle A. C. and will be staged at rock-bottom popular prices, for there will be 1,000 seats at 50 cents, 200 at one dollar, and a few choice seats at $1.50.

Gagnon and Herman are not champions, but they should put up a slashing, flopping battle. Gagnon made the best showing of his career in the Garden a few weeks ago when he thrashed Al Friedman, and Herman battered Boy Mills to defeat in Franklin, N. H., a week ago.

Gagnon looked the most improved heavyweight in the game by the manner in which he tore into Friedman. He was vicious and sure, and he showed more fight than a bombardment that had Friedman headed for a knockout as early as the third round. The Frenchman is looking forward to his next fight with Schaf, Big Boy Rawson, or Jim Mandell.

The course is a brunt one of sufficient difficulty including a still "L" pool and a water jump. The best horses in the game, and the best riders, amateur and professional, may be expected to be present. The racing on June 19 at the Macomber estate, near New York, was so successful that the owner so generously threw open to the public, is of equal character, and with these three days of competition, New England may feel satisfied that they have been provided with the very best sport yet seen. The exciting and thrilling of competitions offers, and the slogan of the house of the Eastern Horse Club is "Welcome Everybody."

U. S. Davis Cup Team Needs One Victory

Detroit, May 31 (AP)— Victory for the United States Davis Cup team in the American zone semifinals was a recognized certainty today.

Leading two matches to nothing after their first skirmish with the Cubans, Uncle Sam's net stars require but one victory in the remaining three matches, one double and two singles. The checker- they sought today by matching their strongest and most consistent doubles team, Johnny Van Ryn and William Allen, against the Cuban combination of Capt. Ricardo Morales and Herman Matus.

A triumph for Van Ryn and Allen today would send the United States team to Europe to meet the winner of the European zone semifinals for the right to challenge France, possessor of Davis cup, emblematic of international tennis supremacy.

It was Johnny Hennessey and Van Ryn who pushed the United States to its present advantage in the first two singles matches yesterday. Hennessey started the procession by defeating Capt. Ricardo Morales, 6-0, 6-2, 6-4, and Van Ryn made it a rout by overwhelming 20-year-old Gustavo Villar, 6-0, 6-1, 6-1.

Fuller Gets Busy and Knocks Out Chick Suggs

Thorton, R. I., May 31—Sammy Fuller of Boston showed his comeback for featherweight honors here by knocking out Chick Suggs of New Bedford in the eighth round of the main bout.

Fuller looked like a champion, scoring with a beautiful left jab and his right hook. He also counted on several occasions. It was a left hook to the jaw that put the colored star out of the picture in the eighth stanza. In the seventh bout, Benny "Kid" Carter of Boston and Young Lady of Thorton fought an eight-round draw.

Three Double Winners in Track Meet

Engle, Interests and T. Ryan were the only double winners at the West End House meet at the Charlestown. THE proof of the hat is in the wearing. What on earth is the use of paying $5 or $6 for straw if neither you nor anybody else can tell them apart from our straw?

We challenge any manufacturer to put more style, more good looks into a $5 or $6 hat than we put into ours at $2.25 and $3.85. . . . and we challenge anyone else selling a hat for less than $5 to put in as much smartness and quality.

Tom, who wears up a big kick from your dashing exploits — you are keeping bright the memories of romance of the Western frontier—but it is the part you play in holding the hearts of Youth that wins our admiration: your rough playfulness; your keen understanding of child nature; your tender sympathies and charities to the shrunken and unfortunate, all make you deserving of the title "straight shooter."

Army of Athletes Assemble for Intercollegiate Today

BIG 4-A GAMES START
ON COLLEGE FIELD

PHILADELPHIA, May 31—An army of college athletes, representing all sections of the United States, is here today for the I. C. 4-A, title games on the cinders and sword of Franklin Field.

Despite a long transcontinental train trip, usually figured to take the edge from the work of athletes, Stanford of California, is the favorite of the experts, occasionally correct in doing out sport events, for the high position when the points are counted tomorrow afternoon.

With the exception of the hammer throw, in which Black of Maine is picked to win, the rest of the field is weight events.

Eric Kraus, Stanford, winner of shot and discus last year, is threatened seriously only by a fellow Cardinal, Robert, in the two last mentioned titles.

Anderson, Cornell captain, and Redinger of Penna may conquer this year, but only if the Stanford men fail to perform at their best. Kirby and Sparling, Stanford, third and fourth in the javelin season back, both have improved. Which seems to indicate that eastern men face a tough time. Both Stanford young men are favorites over 200 feet in the javelin contest and the best of the Atlantic coast talent in Dave Myers of N. Y., who is good for about 135 feet.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA, with Jesse Mortenson, losing the javelin, is strong, as Jesse has done this year. He is expected to defeat John Collier of Brown, who is making a strong bid for a 120-yard mile race win by confining his efforts to this event. Collier has, in other years, worked in two or more events and so has not shown his best in the high hurdles. However, Nichols probably is a fifth of a second faster than Collier over the high hurdles.

So with Kraus, Robert, Kirby, Sparling and Nichols, Stanford points here and there and Dick Templeton's gang is likely to bring back to the home of the I. C. 4-A outdoor record of 1929.

Yale and Harvard, both strong on track and field, have a number of good men ready to go. Yale's Edward the Crimson, who won the 400 in a dual meet, but the strong points of the Blue are the 100 and 200 yard sprints by the presence of capable performers of other colleges than Harvard and Yale in the very events where Yale was superior last year.

Harvard's best bet for a first place in Jimmy Reid's 100 yard race. Reid won this event in the dual meet with Yale in 4m. 30 and a fraction seconds on a slow track.

Reid runs his own race from the start and goes after a win for himself, instead of trying to pull along his teammates. He should win.

Frederic Sturdy, Yale pole vaulter, and Charley Zerkle, quarter, are the men on whom the Blue depends for first place in the meet. Sturdy must beat Jack Williams of U. S. C., who has a mark of 13 ft. 10 in., and to be sure to beat the other first class pole vaulters.

So many men, the year, have beaten 10 seconds in the century that picking a probable winner is a more than a little difficult. However, Jimmy Dabney of Holy Cross, if in proper shape, is one of those entered to the limit.

The Purple sprinter has not been in very good health this spring. He was unable to compete in the first meet, between Holy Cross and Harvard a short while ago.

Consequently, it is doubtful whether or not they can stand the strain of the track of the century.

Boston College sent four men to the meet. Tom Magner runs the mile, John Woodworth and Bill Mulcahey race in the quarter, and Zeke Wiskewick is entered in the field events.

Any one of this quartet is capable of doing well.

MR. BOSTON
JACK CONWAY

LARGE DAN CARROLL, was on his way to the South Station today when he bumped into Mr. Boston. A couple of ladies were required to take care of Dan's luggage.

"Where are you bound?" asked Mr. Boston.

Atlantic City, whispered Dan. "I want to listen to the end and away as they splash across the Jersey Coast. I'll be gone for a week."

"Who is going to feed your fighters while you're away?" pressed Mr. Boston.

"They'll have plenty of sugar and good credit," chirped Dan. "I have packed them pictures in with my luggage so that I may look at them if I get lonesome."

"What plans have you for your little stable?"

"I have Jim Maloney battling Johnny Risko at Graves Field on June 17," replied Carroll. "That ought to be a red hot quarrel. At the Garden last December, Shamus just noed out Risko for the decision."

"On June 24 Maloney will tackle Tom Heeney in a return tussle at Philadelphia. Maloney liked Heeney here in Boston and will do it all over again at 'Philly'."

"What about Henry Fitzgerald?" asked Mr. Boston.

"He has just had his teeth fixed," answered Dan. "He has had several fillings taken out which were put in while he was in the Navy. I guess the Navy doctors used lead. Henry's going to take a few weeks back in the mountains and will then resume training. He'll be ready for action again by July."

"I wish you would say something about My Diamond, my latest featherweight addition. This youngster looks like the real thing in the flite line. He has the class and sparkle which will carry him a long way up the flite trail. I would like to watch him with the winner of the Fuller-Zeremba bout which will be staged at Fenway Park on June 13."

"Maloney, Kirby and the rest of the stable are also eager to swing into action."

"Send me a picture of yourself in a wheel chair on the Boardwalk," said Mr. Boston.

"I'll agree to do that if you won't submit the picture as evidence to be used against me by the Fin Com."

"IN this age of souvenir hunters," said Mr. Boston, "the fans at the Sonnenberg-Plattina wrestling match fought for bits of the ring-side chair which was smashed to pieces when the wrestlers rolled through the ropes and hit it. Those persons who were able to secure bits of the chair later appeared at Sonnenberg's dressing room and asked him to autograph the souvenirs."

The famous crabsauce tree in the Hall murder case was torn down piece by piece by souvenir hunters until it was impossible to tell where the tree had stood.

Booting gloves worn by winning fighters, the bats of famous ball players and the personal belongings of notables have been long sought by souvenir hunters.

"DICK RUSSELL is willing to admit that Jake Zeremba, his featherweight act, is the real goods. Six years ago I knocked out Johnny Brown and now Jake has also performed the same feat," said Dick. "I expect he will do as much for Jimmy Butler when they get tangled up in their title skirmish."

CHAPMAN OUT TO REPEAT
TRIUMPH

George Chapman, veteran bike rider from Newark, N. J., was after his second successive victory at the Haverly cycle track in the 40-mile motor-paced race at the beach oval Saturday night. Chappie, better than ever, won the opening in impressive style last week and made such a hit with the fans that many saw him winning his seventh American motor-paced title this year.

But the season is yet young and Chappie may go down to defeat this week-end. For opposed to him this week will be Francesco Zuccheti, the Italian from Providence, who is riding this year as he never has before. No less an authority than Nat Butler thinks that Zuccheti will capture the laurels this year if Franco Georgetti, the present title, is to be dethroned.

Then also Chappie will face Frans Duerberg, the sensational German rider who pressed him to the very end last Saturday night, and Larry Gaffney, the Irishman, who has been occasionally at the sea shore track.

Chapman went with over 200 beats a minute last week. When it is considered that it was only his fourth appearance behind motors the future certainly looks bright for the young veteran from Newark.

Twixt Tee and Cup

Decisions of the game of golf, the Twixt Tee and Cup, when John is time to witness some of the best golf in the body away properly. Fittingly, it is a perfect replica of Rod-nu Brown of The Country Club.

The field which will be competing for the intercollegiate championship is composed of the best youngsters in New England and when you see the best "kicks" in action you see some golf.

A pre-championship prediction is that Joe Lynch and Joe Pizzullo will fight it out over the 36-hole medal play route for the title. Lynch is a former H. S. State captain and a former champion, while Pizzullo is the present junior and a ready title holder of Rhode Island.

Mike Brady has sent in his entry for the Massachusetts Open. Mike has played in these championships for years, and although he has not been able to lead the field for many years, he is always a dangerous threat. Tom McNamara, former pro, at Wollaston, will also play at Vesper.

Donald Vinton should play Vesper in great style. The course is most suitable for the little P. M. match, and Vinton's game. In a practice round this week, Vinton started off with a 6 but was out in 14 and 16 in 26 for a time 40 from the back tee.

There are a number of long hitters in this year's group of men who will be out in front of John Fitzgerald, the club manager of the Country Club at Wollaston.

The National Hockey League will hold its annual golf tournament on May 31 at the local Country Club at Wollaston. The committee in charge of the tournament is composed of President Frank Falder, Edie Cleghorn, Combs, and Amos and Cecil Hart.

Emory Currier, who won the Southern Conference javelin throw with a cast of 108 feet 9 1/2 inches, is in Philadelphia today to pick up points for the University of the California team, which he captains. (Associated Press photo.)

Tomorrow Big Day
for School Nines

By DICK McSWENEY

WITH the schoolboy baseball season rapidly nearing its close, the various suburban and private schools are making desperate efforts to win honors in tomorrow's games.

Dean Academy will close its diamond affairs with St. John's Prep, the same taking place at Franklin. Both these private school units have experienced good seasons and are anxious to win victory.

Worcester Academy at Wollaston, Princeton Academy at Kent's Hill, Vernon Academy at Maine Central, Oshing at Deerfield, Taber Academy at Mount Hill, St. George's at Middlebury, Pomeroy at Taft, and Vermont Academy at Kent Normal keep private school diamond circles active.

Important clashes are billed for the suburban teams. Everett meets an old rival, Malden, on the Blue and Gold diamond and will send De Angelo to the mound. The Blue and Gold team will be Peabody or Kelley will work for Peabody. A good crowd is expected to jam the Field at stadium for this one.

CAMBRIDGE LATIN and Somerville are slated to mingle at Dilworth Field in an important tussle.

SONNY AND LEWIS REFUSE $100,000 BID FROM COAST

CHICAGO IN FIELD FOR TITLE GO

Sandow Does Not Believe Los Angeles Is Proper Place for Match

By ED W. SMITH

LOS ANGELES, May 31.—They've worked up a pretty nifty sort of a situation in the "rassling" game when an offer of a purse of $100,000 is met with the simple statement that "we think we can do better elsewhere." And that's what the executive board of the Los Angeles and San Francisco Lewis camps have done or are doing.

Just after Lewis had beaten Phil Thompson in a rough match in this city the other evening, promoter Los Pare decided it was time to act, and he did, just before the Stranger, a newly wed, and his manager, also a recent beneficiary, started for the East.

Dare announced that he was prepared at once to offer a purse of $100,000 for a finish match in this city between Lewis and Sandow for the world's championship.

Sandow announced at once that this suited him nicely, and that he thought well of it, he received a forfeit of $500 in liberty bonds with the athletic commission to go through with such a contract providing the signature of the champion could be obtained.

He haven't communicated with the San Francisco people recently, but he said, "and other than this they have promised us a return meeting. I do not know whether this is a pretty sure that they will want the match to be fought out in Boston."

"There it was in Boston in 1924," said Ed who is a professional player, and I imagine, without going too deeply into conditions at the present moment, we could outdraw any spot in the country, with the possible exception of Chicago. You see, we had a house of some $75,000 there the first time and we turned thousands away that night in the new building there."

FIGURES show that there's offer of a flat guarantee of $100,000 exceeds by nearly $50,000 the largest single "gate" of any wrestling match in the history of the game.

In the second match between Frank Gotch and Gene Schmitz, held at the Casino Park in Chicago, the gate receipts amounted to a trifle over $50,000. Dare proposes holding the match here if he can get it, at Waterville, Me. This, also, a most practical place for night boxing shows. It was at this home of the Angles club that George Godfrey and Paulino Venetian drew a gate of close to $125,000 two years ago this spring. He believes that at a scale of "two to two" these big babies of the mat could get in somewhere around $200,000. This, too, despite the fact that this is not a $10 town for anything, though wrestling has been doing exceptionally well for many a month now.

The other hand Sandow has been led to suppose, on good information, that a rematch in Boston would be almost certain to draw in close to a quarter of a million at a scale of "two to fifteen."

At any rate, Lewis is on his way East with a long string of engagements and Sandow will work through ahead of him into Boston to see exactly what the situation may be there.

Tad Tosses of Defeat of Joe Gans by Willie Lewis

For 36 years "Tad" T. A. Danes, one of the greatest cartoonists and sporting authorities that ever lived, carried the "fight" page. Shortly before his death "Tad" wrote and illustrated a series of articles dealing in his inimitable style, those ring battles which for thrill and sensationalism were almost indistinguishable from the real thing. This story is one of the series.

ONE of the big surprises in the history was the night when Lewis beat Joe Gans in six rounds at Madison Square Garden away back May 18, 1902. Lewis actually had the better of the go—strange as it may seem. Before the fight they were betting on Gans winning before the limit. Quite a few bets were made on this at even money. Lewis was a known, tough, big fellow, but Gans was the more famous.

As they entered the ring Lewis was a nervous wreck. He was the Times Building did not see the old time. It was announced that Gans, tipped the scales at 150 pounds, and Lewis at 152. Well, Lewis was a pound or two more than Gans. I can't tell a ham way you could measure.

Lewis was the fight with a left jab. He hit Gans with a right cross. There never was a time when Lewis was so good as he was then, but—Lewis stuck that left out and it was tantalling to look at.

HE jabbed, jabbed, jabbed, occasionally taking a flit with right and then immediately coming up again. He was nervous. He was the best any way he could. He was a good fighter.

In the first round he started his long left-hand reach was much better than Gans. He was a good fighter. He was a good fighter.

Lewis was satisfied with his box. He was the best any way he could. He was a good fighter. He was a good fighter.

He was the best any way he could. He was a good fighter. He was a good fighter.

He was the best any way he could. He was a good fighter. He was a good fighter.

He was the best any way he could. He was a good fighter. He was a good fighter.

He wanted the sting to land. He forced Lewis from corner to corner, made him fight fast and although he was being jabbed, never once stopped trying for the knockout. One minute you'd think it was coming, and the next you'd be sitting there wondering whether he had gone back or not.

I hardly thought Gans had gone back any. He was up again, and he was strong fellow in Lewis. Willie had won, reach and fought on.

Keech Gets $40,000 For Victory

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 31 (AP)—Approximately $40,000 in cash and several trophies will be given Ray Keech, Philadelphia, at a banquet here tonight for having won the 17th annual 500-mile automobile race yesterday at the Stadium.

Each of the 32 pilots who started in the race will receive some portion of the $100,000 purse regardless of his position at the end of the race.

The race was started at the death of Bill Renshaw, Los Angeles, who died from a fractured skull a short time after his car had turned over early in the contest.

Louis Meyer, High Gate, Calif., the 1928 American driving champion, who finished second yesterday, will receive about $10,000 of the money as Carl Marchese, Chicago, who will get larger share.

Others who will get larger share of the money are Carl Marchese, Kansas City, who was fourth; Fred Wynn, Philadelphia, fifth; Louis Chiron, Paris, France, sixth; Billy Arnold, Chicago, eighth; Cliff Rogers, Los Angeles, ninth; and Fred Frame, who was 10th.

Deason Lili, Dubois, Pa., who was in the lead for 122 miles, but whose car was wrecked when he dashed off the track, won $4,000 in lap prizes, and Lou Moore, whose car broke down five miles from the finish when he was two laps ahead of all others for second place, won $2,000 in lap money.

In addition to winning a fortune by his clever driving, Keech gathered 1000 points toward the 1929 driving championship. He was the first driver to make more than the usual three, 10 laps, the record of 160,000 on his first run of the time. Golf Pros Now Given Chance in England

By JOHNNY FARRELL
American Open Golf Champion

WHATEVER was wrong with British golf it seems to me, is rapidly being corrected. The subject: "What Is Wrong With British Golf" has been discussed pro and con ever since that occasion several years ago when Walter Hagen attempted to answer the question without mincing words.

Hagen's criticisms were deeply resented by the British and for some time Walter was the target of heated attacks. I think, however, that what the flag said at that time had much to do with bringing home to the British the fact that something was wrong somewhere. More than anything else, I believe, it convinced them that "amateurism" didn't pay in tournaments. On every hand I have found signs of a rising progressiveness that is sure to benefit the game over here.

There is the illustrious George Duncan going in for free lance, some of the unhealed of British golf circles, and a step that caused no end of comment. Duncan, at 42 years old, when a man is considered to be retiring from his prime as a player, resigns from Wentworth to become a golfing soldier of fortune.

There is also the fact that that was to those who live by tradition.

OK, whatever the professional money was anything but one of the hired help, a man paid for teaching golf and considered to have no more freedom or privilege than other servants. He wasn't allowed in the clubhouse at any time and his every action was regulated by caste. He wouldn't dare play a round of golf without being escorted by a caddy. Americans have helped to change all that.

Perhaps it may seem trivial, but the fact that the British are now strolling unsmilingly upon the green links recently adorned in a new kind of unparaded brilliancy has made even an American gasp.

It was a day another step in breaking the traditional bonds that have held the British professional securely for many, many years. A done, years ago when a man so venturesome as Crompton wouldn't have considered for a moment wearing a coat that rivalled the rainbow.

THE BIGGEST shock to British tradition, however, was the fact that the British are now out of net and serious concern and drew attention to the fact that perhaps British clubs are not giving their professionals as open-handedly as they ought. On the one hand, on the game, whose word carries considerable weight, and on the other, in championing the cause of the pro. He said:

"The golf club discharging its duty to the young and struggling professional? Does the average golf club give its professional a fair chance to become a first-class player, or a reputable clubmaker, or a competent teacher? Every now and again some professional endeavors to articulate his grievance. A difference was can understand appears to hamper him. His invariably ends with a resignation. But what he infers we are prepared to say outright. We are of the opinion that the terms of employment of the average professional by the average golf club are thoroughly bad and grossly unfair alike to club and professional."

At a conference held between the promoters and managers of the two hours, the radio and movie pictures were finally settled. There will be no broadcast this is final and irrevocable. It was said.

Paulino will be awarded the movie rights in Spain, and Schmitz will be given the German rights.

Eddie Collins would make a good traffic cop; he directs a line of automobiles past third base—Jimmy White came back from Paris to see Sox drop two; he didn't expect that trip—won't convince the Braves, after losing again, that it's a lucky number—looks like the Senators playing Taps for the Yanks yesterday—Ray won at Indianapolis because no one could keep him—Tilden beats his pupil, showing that he has possibilities as a schoolmaster—Jones has his chin back; nobody could steal his shirt—the Harvard captain hopes that he who runs the fastest two miles can beat him—very few cars about these hot roads—pleats of hot tips these days, though not in the right field stands—let blaring sunshine to make him Larkspur bloom—lots of intercollegiate printers will be over here in the trial heat—seems to be getting us, too.

"Only for two weeks, dear. Yes. I'd like it. You don't mind? Why, anyway, don't you want your wife's success? They send her for her, and a flavor—aren't you proud of her?"

He slipped back, gaily into the

She hesitated—remembered Alan's hand.

After all, why shouldn't she ride up with this friend?

Ride up with a man? A desk!

"It's awfully nice of you, Edidin. Well—"

He drove crossworn to Tenth avenue and up West End; there, fresh, sweet breath of the winter wrapped her in cool beauty. Harold Papa Weimer was dissatisfied with Alan's work.

A conversation overheard inadvertently: "New branch — disappointing... Blake disoriented... selling..."

They were talking about Alan. Tone got up and went out of the office, mind a-whirl. He could do this—throw them down!

Such a chance it was! Why, he'd been overlooked! Expected to be manager in his own right within six months; have everything to say.

She walked around this day, to Alan's office. No one about; melt key on the desk.

came back, but that was all. She didn't know that he heaved a long time wishing to ask her, talk things over. "Let's something; let's get out of this... begin again... give ourselves a chance; forget ambition, can't be this—happy..."

She didn't know he wished to test this. And she worked through next day in a will aloneness, to splashing her typewriter.

Alan, meanwhile, had gone home at five o'clock. He owned a bought cigarettes, telephoned "Start up this way."

"Stop up by maybe."

Hill brought a pocket flask.

Alan felt himself all at loose ends. "Lan, Lan, won't hurt to ride around. Get you a somewhere; be a good fellow once, can't you?" He said. They headed downward, the cherted hills. He was back, grinning. "Holding out man, eh? I don't know any more here! Leave it to me! I'm a young fellow, me!" He said in gleam that he felt small again when they parked on Eighth street.

This Day in Our History

THE famous Johnstown (Pa.) flood occurred on May 31, 1889. The dam at Johnstown gave way during a heavy rainfall, and the mass of water, almost twenty feet in height, completely destroyed the city. The total loss of life was 2142. Floods in various States last winter took a lesser toll.

A SIX-DAY NOVEL

Belle felt then, striding out along a cross street in the forties.

"She came back presently, bringing another girl. Familiar miniature. She was wearing a light gleaming down straw-colored card. Also sat up, but with anger on her face. She said to me, 'Let me take you—think I'm going to be a nurse.'"

"Shut up, Dan! Want her to hear you? Done now! make the rest of it."

"I hope you to be inside him, all one time. I mean, I hope you short. I hope you won't think I have one thing to do with this. Get you home. I mean, I hope you short."

"Oh! Thought you wanted I'll go to the hospital."

"I'll drive her now, Spooks. Give her the brake, you damn fool!"

It was too late: one wheel was off the road. The heavy car trembled slightly. Spooks scolded: the other girl began to sob. The great car was stuck in the mud, and the settled and came to rest, listing far to one side. Hill sat helplessly.

"You'll have to sit here," Alan said. "You'll stay here, damn. Eternally. Sorry but it can't be helped."

It was in a town, garage, telephone: this was an out-of-the-way road seldom traveled at night. The car was stuck in the mud, and the settled and came to rest, listing far to one side. Hill sat helplessly.

he was sorry in a vague, uncomfortable way.

Bill turned the car westward across the ferry and up through Jersey, driving at heading speed, pausing to offer the flask all around. Fluff refused it with shocked little cries and Alan felt his thought warming to her for the first time.

Zigzagging, plunging past traffic lights, skidding at corners. Out on the marshes, grazing the edge of the narrow viaduct.

He was alone at the wheel, with the garage man and sent him out with a breaker.

The last train, a lunch-wagon, man told him, had gone through at midnight. But there'd be a street car in an hour and it connected with the ferry.

Alan swore horribly and sat down on the curb to wait.

It was nine o'clock when he wandered into the flat. Lone had gone to bed, leaving the door ajar.

THE LIFE OF IRISH PEOPLE BY FITZGERALD

Ex-Mayor John P. Fitzgerald reposed the foremost native writers of American history for their alleged ommissions to give proper tribute to those of Irish blood who helped make the American Revolution a success in his speech at the Charitable Irish Society's memorial rites in Old Granary burial ground.

"I do not say that historians George Bancroft was guilty of lying, but he certainly did not tell the simple truth about the help that Irishmen and Irishwomen gave to the Revolution and after."

Fitzgerald said.

He also lauded that the Irish of Revolutionary times were Scotch-Irish, that they were Presbyterians. Yet the Presbyterians Irish were denied the right to hold public office in Ireland, at were the Catholics. Presbyterian Irish were driven out of their native land, as were Catholic Irish.

Of the 1,500,000 Irish men and women forced to migrate from Erin in the century between 1680-1780, many thousands came to the American colonies, many to Massachusetts and what is now Maine, in many places Catholic religious exercises were under the ban, and the Irish were treated as outcasts.

It was an indispensible fact that nearly half of Washington's army was made up of Irish. None doubt that the Irish were instrumental in the beginning of the American Revolution.

"And the real story of Irish 'chivalry' and 'valor' doesn't end there, but goes on to the War of 1812, through the Civil War, with its great Irish regiments, and on to the present."

His remarks touch only lightly on the fact that in the Civil War company of Irish was formed and marched down the streets of New York City, and that the Irish were in the front lines of the battle of Gettysburg.

President T. M. Green laid a wreath against the tombstone of William Clark, first recorded member to be made for this affectionate Irishman.

Andrew later received and gave this same company at the State House.

"Then I think of the Spanish War, when Boston Irishmen like Grady, O'Connor, Hogan, really took the lead in raising money to risk their lives for the United States."

Watertown Police Excited Over Strange Flag

Informing that someone was flying a German flag from a home in School st., Watertown, the police commissioner, Patrolman George Shea is in a state of excitement.

Patrolman Shea found a strange flag flying from a house occupied by George N. Pratt at 348 School st. He entered the house and found that it was merely flying the Albanian consulate flag. Pratt explained he was displaying the flag out of respect for both the American and Albanian veteran dead.

TREE WOMEN IN THE CRASH

Pittsfield, May 31.—Mrs. Mary Barrett of 264 Pearl st., Springfield, is in the St. Mary's Hospital here, with serious injuries sustained in an automobile accident on Jacobs Ladder, in which her two daughters were also injured. She is suffering from an injured back and probable internal injuries. Her two daughters, the Misses Gertrude and Anne Barrett, are also in the hospital, suffering from bruises, lacerations and shock.

Gertrude, daughter of the Barrett car was proceeding toward Lenox. They were passing another car, and Officer Patrick Ridge of the Lenox State police barracks was told, the Barrett car was forced from the highway and crashed to a tree.

Another woman and a child in the car were not injured. The House of Mercy ambulance was called and Dr. Higgins of Chester rendered first aid.

These machines were involved in another accident on the Lenox, which took place on the corner of Lenox and Huntington. The car was driven by Harold F. Barry of 28 Lenox ave., Astoria, N. Y., and William R. Dymekman of 342 Washington st., Boston.

Takes Judge's Car, Tells Owner About It Today

Arthur Galvin of East Fourth st., South Boston, proved he did not know his automobile number with the result that he is charged with taking the automobile of Judge Edward L. Logan, who was in the car when it was taken to the court. Judge Logan is in court today.

Within a half hour of the time the car was reported stolen, police had Galvin in custody and the car returned. Spitting the automobile was a very difficult task, because it bore the well-known number, 84121.

Most everybody in South Boston knows that number stands for the 25th station and the 15th regiment, the outfit Logan commanded during the war.

TYPOS TO HEAR MATTHEW WOLL

The visit of Mr. Woll is invited by the union.

Mr. Mitchell is chairman of this committee. By vote of the union at the last meeting, Leo P. Greene will appoint committee to draw up a list of referendum questions to be presented to the members on group insurance.
